

Write by the Water

The Fine Print: Our Cancellation Policy

When you apply to attend a retreat, you are (1) reserving a spot that prevents another writer from reserving, (2) being counted in the minimum number of enrollments, which sometimes determines whether or not the retreat will run.

Because of this, you must cancel no less than 3 weeks in advance of the start date.

Refunds (minus a cancellation fee of $50) are available for those who cancel at least three weeks before the retreat. If you cancel less than three weeks before the retreat start date, no refund is available. If a retreat is cancelled by Write by the Water for any reason, all payments and deposits other than the application fee will be refunded in full.
